

Remote Learning Provision Statement

Government guidance summer 2020 states:

Where a class, group or small number of pupils need to self-isolate, or there is a local lockdown requiring pupils to remain at home, we expect schools to have the capacity to offer immediate remote education. Schools are expected to consider how to continue to improve the quality of their existing offer and have a strong contingency plan in place for remote education provision by the end of September. This planning will be particularly important to support a scenario in which the logistical challenges of remote provision are greatest, for example where large numbers of pupils are required to remain at home.

The main platform that will be used to facilitate home learning will be Class Dojo. Whole school communications will be shared via 'School Story', class announcements via 'Class Story' or individual messages via Class Dojo's messaging service. Pupils will submit their work using their Class Dojo 'Portfolio'.

The school will work with parents to ensure all pupils have access to the remote learning provided by the school. If this is not possible via Class Dojo, photocopied packs will be used.

Our provision when individual, or a small group of pupils need to self-isolate:

- Pupils will be directed to a specific online lesson (e.g. Oak Academy) that closest matches the learning taking place in school for English and Maths every day they are isolating.
- Pupils will be provided with a 'topic menu' that provides them with a selection of tasks linked to the learning taking place in class. The menu will include science and a range of foundation subjects (i.e. geography, history).
- When appropriate, teachers will share the slides, resources and tasks that are being used in school for science and foundation lessons with the pupils who are isolating.
- Pupils are expected to upload the work (e.g. a photo) they have completed to their Class Dojo portfolio daily.
- Teachers will acknowledge/comment on every piece of work uploaded to a pupil's portfolio

Our provision when a whole class is isolating or in the event of a local lockdown, in addition to the above:

- Teachers and LSAs will make themselves available at specific times each day to support with English and maths lessons, using Class Dojo.
- Every pupil will receive a phone call from their teacher once a week.
